Your termite contract with us calls for a re-examination of the property above before the contract's expiration date and every year after that. The re-examination checks the outside and the inside of the structure.

We made the efforts listed below to schedule this year's re-examination, but we were not able to get in. The re-examination was not performed.

Efforts to schedule the re-examination

Rule 115(8)

Date	How we tried to reach you	What happened
10/28/2026	Scheduled visit, set by phone	No one home. Door hanger left with our number.
11/02/2026	Phone call	Voicemail left offering Nov 4 between 8 and 10 AM.
11/04/2026	Scheduled visit	No one home and the back gate locked.

To schedule the re-examination, call our office at the number above.

☑ Copy kept in operator's customer file

Rule 115(8): The annual reexamination must include an exterior inspection and interior inspection of the structure. However, where the efforts of the pest control operator to schedule an inspection have been unsuccessful because the customer has failed to respond to the pest control operator or to make their premises available for an inspection, the pest control operator shall be relieved of the responsibility to perform the inspection provided the pest control operator has made reasonable efforts to perform the inspection and notified the customer in writing the inspection was not performed. A copy of this notification shall be maintained in the pest control operator's customer file.

We have elected not to renew the termite contract for the structure at the property above.

The contract stays in force until its expiration date, shown above. After that date, the structure is no longer covered by this contract.

43 days	☑ Mail ☐ Hand delivery ☐ Email

Notes
The rear deck's posts sit in the soil, and the 2024 and 2025 re-exams asked for them to be set on piers. Until that is fixed, we can't keep the treated zone whole under the contract.
